National Youth Leadership Training

White Stag is an intense weeklong youth oriented leadership training experience sponsored by the Hoosier Trails Council and held annually in and around Camp Maumee. The training is conducted by highly qualified youth staff under the supervision of adult advisors using National Youth Leadership Training Course syllabus, as published by the National Council, Boy Scouts of America. The previous course syllabus was Junior Leader Training conference and has been fully revised.

White Stag models a month in the life of a troop – three meetings (one each day for the first three days) all leading up to a big outdoor experience (an overnight outpost camp). The course uses the patrol method and presents model Patrol Leader Council meetings. Patrols are challenged early in the week to present to the troop at the end of the week their “Quest for the Meaning of Leadership.” While the challenge is designed to have them go through the four stages of team development, it will help patrols and individual Scouts internalize the leadership skills and concepts being presented to them along the way. Throughout the course, the staff will be modeling the concepts and skills that are the core content of the course. The focus of each session is not only knowledge but giving the youth a “Toolbox of Skills” that equips them with the “how”. Participants will also have fun!

White Stag participants should be a First Class Scout, 13 years old, currently filling or likely to assume a leadership position in the troop and interested in learning new skills that can help him lead effectively. Additionally, they must be approved by their scoutmaster.
